Ten Cents

Anxious Reader:

No, we don't think the President is going to be embarrassed. But Ol' Sam Ervin and Committee Counsel Sam Dash may be if the automatic bugging devices that turn on and off tape recorders at the sound of a voice prove to be advance publicity for the fall series of "The Man From U.N.C.L.E."

The Three Layer Cake - CPO

The form and scope of Comprehensive Planning Organization is beginning to reveal itself.

CPO had maintained that its purpose was advisory — until now.

From time to time in the past these columns have been used to warn that CPO was destined to become an added layer of government. With it, we opined, was to come an added layer of taxation. A three-layer cake for the tax spenders.

Not so, came the word back.

Now, in CPO's initial Coastline Study and Plan, it becomes alarmingly clear that CPO intends to institute mandatory review procedures with land use controls on the coast region, and it suggests that CPO may be the appropriate agency to be given the review power.

According to Supervisor Lou Conde whose district is adjacent to our own — the latter being under the operational control of Supervisor Dick Brown, the new thrust of CPO is what he (Conde) and a few other elected officials have been prognosticating right along.

There are several tenets in the Coastline Study Plan that need airing. One is the possibility that CPO's land use con-

CPO, on Monday, went against the express advice of their attorney — and against the law — and approved a $5.3 million grant to San Diego Transit Corp. Their attorney said CPO was following the rules but not the law but CPO chose to ignore his opinion regarding the illegality of certain expenses CPO was permitting the bus firm to claim.

Controls may differ from those planned by officials of coastal cities — these officials having been duly elected and given the same responsibilities by the citizens involved.

As Conde sees it, if CPO accomplishes its goal to gain statutory authority, CPO's suggested changes will become fact and CPO's programs will be implemented by a body not directly elected by the people.

CPO also proposes general obligation bonds for the purchase of open space. Conde is first to admit that open space purchases are desirable — but not against the will of the people.

"General obligation bonds are being proposed because CPO feels the expenditure is necessary," Conde said, "but it is advocating this method is an attempt to circumvent the will of the people."

The CPO report recommends the use of general obligation bonds "in spite of recent open space bond election defeats in this region."

Conde says CPO feels it proper to obligate the taxpayers of the region even after the voters have turned down these expenditures of their money.

"It is wrong for government to obligate the taxpayer against his will by these devices when he has already made his choice through elective processes."

Conde said that most people in the region under consideration are not aware of the impact of these latest proposals.

Another element in CPO's Coastal Study Plan involves a use fee. The report suggests an entirely new tax to be laid to support this additional layer of government.

CPO staff suggests "funds should be collected regionwide" through "uniform fiscal tax . . . hotel room tax, tax collected on the basis of beach users or other similar methods."

A beach tax! This conjures up a vision of a chain link fence along the entire stretch of San Diego's beaches with guards standing at appropriate entrances to collect the beach use and hotdog cooking fee from those who would enjoy the use of San Diego's great and natural wonders for which they are already paying taxes so burdensome that there is a real and present danger of the whole mess crumbling down on the tax collector's head.

Conde is no less cynical.

"Proponents of this idea will reply that this is only for the coast region. But why stop there? Will they advocate that we create a mountain region? How about a desert region? Eventually, will they want to take control of the entire region?"

"We who are elected officials, as well as the public, must be alert to ensure that bureaucracy set up for cooperation between governmental jurisdictions doesn't end up usurping the authority given to us by the people."

Every taxpayer should get a copy of CPO's Coastline Study and Plan, read it over, then raise Cain. Not against the plan necessarily, but against the setting up of an appointed staff which will decide who will pay added taxes, and how much.

Walsh Recommends Repeal of Tax Hike

Jack Walsh, Chairman of the Board of Supervisors, urged repeal of the 1% sales tax increase imposed by the State Legislature July 1.

Walsh also said that the funds raised by the tax increase should be returned to the public at the earliest possible date.

Cited as a reason for the recommendation was the fact that the sales tax increase raises $1.7 million per day when the state already possesses a surplus approaching $1 billion. Walsh further called attention to past statements of Governor Reagan stating that government cannot indefinitely tax the people and expect them to be self-supportive.

Walsh said that a sales tax is, by its very nature, regressive.

Mrs. Florence Atley Marks 102nd Birthday

Florence Atley, a resident at Lemon Grove Convalescent Center for the past four years, celebrated her 102nd birthday last month with a party at the local facility.

Mrs. Atley, a native of Silver City, Nevada, moved to San Francisco in 1891 and was employed there as a bookkeeper. She later was employed for 20 years as a bookkeeper at the Vallejo Navy Base.

Vista La Mesa Annexation Topic Of Public Meeting

LANDMARK—One of the oldest homes in Lemon Grove will be demolished within the next two months to make way for a possible 64-unit apartment complex or commercial development it is expected. Jack Vickery, of Vickery and White Realty indicated this week that the structure, on Pacific ave., would soon be torn down to clear the 2-acre lot for new construction. The structure was once a fine home but in recent years degenerated to become no more than a dangerous place for children to play.

La Mesa Officials Expected To Attend

The area known as Vista La Mesa, long a thorn in the side of Lemon Grove residents who would promote the expansion of the Lemon Grove Fire Department and those who proposed incorporation, will decide Thursday night whether or not to cast its lot with the City of La Mesa.

Paul Haider, of 7216 Pearson st., in Vista La Mesa, said that a public meeting will be held at 7:30 tonight in the council chambers of the La Mesa City Administration bldg., 8130 Allison ave., "to discuss it"—and that the annexation proposal "looks promising."

Vista La Mesa is north of State 94 starting at the San Diego City limit about James st. to the west. It runs north to the City of La Mesa limit and east to Murray Hills rd.

The area is unincorporated and has been considered part of Lemon Grove because it is in the L.G. Elementary School District, but VLM residents never took to that philosophy. They wanted to be autonomous.

Haider said the proposal will include all of the unincorporated areas north of the freeway east to a point about halfway between the Campo rd. offramp and Grossmont Summit. There are about 2,000 people in Vista La Mesa, the area and Haider said the entire strip contained about 4,000 persons.

Vista La Mesa has resisted joining the Lemon Grove Fire District where the fire tax is 83.4 cents for each $100 of assessed valuation. Protection has been by California Division of Forestry which is paid by State but VLM fire rate is one of the highest in the county (10 rating) because of CDF remoteness.

Haider noted that the La Mesa City tax rate is about 90 cents—just a shade higher than the L.G. Fire District tax alone. Other services for which VLM residents are paying now would have the effect of a tax reduction, he said. The LM City tax rate and the LG Fire District rate is added to the County general rate and that rate varies about the county only slightly as indicated by various taxing jurisdictions.

In addition to resisting joining the Lemon Grove Fire District, VLM residents twice rejected participating in incorporation movements.

The decision to consider annexation to La Mesa came to a head over a condominium development on the hillside west of Murray Hills rd. Haider said most residents oppose the development "but it appears that the County is ready to give them (the developers) all the variances they requested." The hearing on the variances will be at the County Administration bldg. Friday.

Haider said there are annexation workers in the American Homes area with a headquarters on American ave.

Haider is a retired naval officer and a retired employee of the Department of Motor Vehicles who has lived on Pearson street for 22 years. He said better fire protection, more adequate police protection, reduced street lighting costs and local control of planning and zoning were reasons for annexation. The average homeowner under annexation will save about $25 a year in taxes, he said.

VLM is in the Lemon Grove Elementary School District but it is likely that the residents will want it to remain as it is, due to the Lemon Grove district being considerably smaller than the La Mesa-Spring Valley District — the only other choice.

Charles Brass, program officer for the City of La Mesa, said that Haider and a Mrs. Perry Shepherd had requested data regarding annexation and that tonight's meeting had been set up to discuss the pros and cons of annexation.

He said that Haider had indicated that there was good community interest in the VLM area.

Several City officials will attend tonight's meeting including city manager Don Wolfer and city engineer Paul Fabares, Brass said. All interested persons are urged to attend.

Extra Rain Helps Helix Water District

Lake Cuyamaca received about 15 inches above average rainfall during the 1972-73 season and 30 inches more than last year, according to end-of-the-year figures reported to the Helix Water District Board of Directors last week.

Meanwhile, water users of the District used an average of 10 million gallons a day more during June than during the same month last year, and hit an all-time high of nearly 60 million gallons on June 20 when local temperatures were in the 100's.

More than 51 inches of rain fell at Lake Cuyamaca, the runoff water conservation reservoir owned by the Helix district, compared to 21.5 inches during the 1971-72 rain year and a long-time average of 36 inches, the report showed.

Water use averaged more than 41 million gallons daily during June, compared to 31 million average for June 1972.

According to the report, the Helix Water District has water in storage sufficient to meet the needs of the service days based on the average daily use of 28.6 million gallons during the past 12 months.

The winner of the competition will receive a year's free pass plus the right to be the first swimmer in the pool. Entries should be mailed to Bill Trask, 8055 Haven dr., Lemon Grove, 92045, by August 31.

The winner will be notified by September 10.

Suit Settled By K-Mart

A false advertising suit brought against the K-Mart Discount Department Store Division of SS Kresge Co. of Michigan by the San Diego County District Attorney was settled out of court, the DA's office announced last week.

The suit, containing eight counts of alleged false advertising, was originally filed September 20, 1972 and a pre-trial court hearing ensued. Also, according to DA Ed Miller, two employees of the K-Mart automotive division were charged with attempted petty theft, a misdemeanor.

Those charges were filed October 2, 1972, after a special undercover car was taken to a K-Mart garage. Deputy J. Morgan Lester, who filed the charges, said investigation indicated unnecessary repairs to the car. The investigation followed consumer complaints, Miller said.

The civil suit, Miller said, alleged that over a two-year period, K-Mart, on occasion, engaged in false and misleading advertising practices involving televisions, photographic film, notebook paper, and other items.

SS Kresge agreed to a settlement of $10,000 in return for dismissal of charges against the company employees and agreed to refrain from false or misleading advertising. The settlement was to avoid costs of further litigation and was not an admission of guilt, Miller said.

The rest of the rezoning discussion was put off till the next meeting to give members a chance to study the area.

A report on riding and hiking trails said that although the trails will connect with those planned by the county, most of the bike traffic in Lemon Grove is inner city, so other trails will be necessary. It was also suggested that a better program of bike education is developed in the schools.

Tickets may be obtained from Post or Auxiliary members. The dance will be chaperoned by Post and Auxiliary members.

Teen Dance On Tap

V.F.W. Post 2082, of Lemon Grove, is sponsoring its second teenage dance Friday, July 27th. Attendance is by invitation only.

Tickets may be obtained from Post or Auxiliary members. The dance will be chaperoned by Post and Auxiliary members.

Broadway Corridor Plan Gets OK From LG Planning Assoc.

The Lemon Grove Planning Association approved a preliminary report on the Broadway corridor, which incorporated two of the previously presented reports. The new plan will be put together and brought to the Association's next meeting Thursday, at 3 p.m. in the auditorium at Golden Avenue Elementary School.

Also discussed and partially approved by the Association was a rezoning plan. Approved was the area north of Highway 94. This includes the Murray Hills development, of which there was much discussion about the type of buildings going in there. The Association adopted a low PRD zone for the area which limits building to five dwellings per acre. This is in conflict with what the developers are currently planning.

The area west of 69th st. was discussed, but put off to the next meeting when the question was raised concerning parking for the area. There are no parks planned for the area, which according to one Association member "will be virtually cut off from the rest of Lemon Grove when the new College extension comes through". The County staff will bring an overlay of planned mini-parks to the next meeting.

In approving the circulation goals, the Association agreed that their overall goal was "to develop a balanced transportation system that provides for present and projected internal circulation, effectively connects the area to neighboring communities, promotes retention of the semi-rural atmosphere, and preserves hillside views."

Goals approved to support or further the general goal ranged from safety matters to scenic roads to providing for mass transit systems. The Association agreed to encourage the full separation of facilities for motorized vehicles, pedestrians and bikes, to design roadways carefully in conjunction with the natural topography to minimize grading, and require adequate off street parking for every land use.

VdO Planning Assoc. Sets Goals For Year

The Valle de Oro Planning Association tentatively approved more goals for the coming year at their meeting July 11. Education goals were completely approved along with the majority of the circulation goals.

Many of the education goals are coordinated with those in Park and Recreation. Among those are, "to develop neighborhood parks in cooperation with existing and future schools, and encourage joint use of the facilities", and to integrate school facilities into existing and future bike and pedestrian trails. Also approved by the Association were goals designed to discourage "incompatible land use" near existing or planned school sites, and to encourage the maximum use of school facilities for educational, recreational and community activities.

Two circulation goals concerned with use and construction of freeways were sent back to committee for further evaluation. These will be brought up at the next meeting along with public appearance, industrial, and commercial goals. The meeting will be next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in room 1002, Monte Vista High School.

The Mt. Miguel Booster Club is sponsoring a winter bowling tournament as a fund raiser for the Miguel Aquatic Center to be built at the high school. Anyone interested in participating in the tournament can contact Gloria Connolly at 479-0906 before July 25.

The Center committee is sponsoring a contest to pick an official emblem for the Center. Entries are to be submitted on white paper, with the size of the emblem kept to a six inch circle.

The winner of the competition will receive a year's free pass plus the right to be the first swimmer in the pool. Entries should be mailed to Bill Trask, 8055 Haven dr., Lemon Grove, 92045, by August 31.

Lodge Plans Dinners, Fairs

Scandinavian Lodge No. 667 of La Mesa, has scheduled a dinner at the San Diego home of Mary Halvorsen Sunday noon, to be held jointly with the Sons of Norway.

A second dinner will be held August 19.

Next month's activities for the lodge include a two-day folk faire at the Scottish Rite Temple in Mission Valley 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. August 25 and 26.

The lodge will sponsor a booth displaying Scandinavian artifacts, baked goods, and gift items for sale. Several members of the lodge plan to attend the faire in authentic Scandinavian costumes.

Also on August 25, the regular meeting of the lodge will be held at the La Mesa Woman's Clubhouse, 5220 Wilson ave., La Mesa, at 8 p.m.

Grant to Aid C/F Clinic

Five-year-old Mark Longfellow, Cystic Fibrosis Poster Child for San Diego County, presented two envelopes to University Hospital to director Sheldon King. One contained a check for $3,000, representative of the grant supporting the C/F and Pediatric Pulmonary Clinic at the Hospital. The other was a volunteer marcher's kit, symbolic of the Breath of Life Campaign just getting under way.

The C/F Clinic, one of 110 clinics across the nation serving children who suffer from the incurable cystic fibrosis and other chronic lung-damaging diseases, is considered to be one of the best in the nation. Children are diagnosed and treated for asthma, bronchitis, bronchiectasis and childhood emphysema, as well as C/F.

It is estimated that there are over 30,000 children in San Diego County, who suffer from the diseases that rob them of the breath of life.

Jamul Club Earns Awards At Del Mar

The Jamul 4-H club competed at the Southern California Exposition at Del Mar and took home a good share of ribbons.

Sandra Walker led the way, earning grand champion status in the Toggenburg goats competition. Sandra Troesch claimed reserve grand champion in the same category. John Hatherill also received a reserve grand championship in the Nubian goat category.

In entomology, award winners from the Jamul club were Eddie Striffler, Dale Troesch, and Doug Wedel. In home economics, Kathy Kaae claimed a first for her picture. Diana Kaae earned a second for a pillow, and Sandra Troesch picked up a third for rug making.

Four club members earned blue ribbons in the cooking competition. They were Maryann Kaae, Robert Jones, Sherry Jones, and Debbie Munce. Eddie Striffler earned a second in the same division.

The club also earned a fourth place award for a booth constructed by the members. The booth earned the club $30. The end of the club year was last Tuesday evening when members took part in a pot luck picnic.

Local Man In Charge Of Folk Faire Booth

Jose Untalan, of Spring Valley is in charge of the Sons and Daughters of Guam cultural exhibit of arts and crafts for the folk faire sponsored by the San Diego County Ecumenical Conference.

The faire, in celebration of America's Finest City Week, will be August 25 and 26 in the Masonic Temple in Mission Valley.

Another group that will have an exhibit at the affair is La Mesa Scandinavian Lodge, Vasa Order of America, which includes several Lemon Grove and Spring Valley members.

'Fiddler' Opens Tonight At Helix High School

"Fiddler on the Roof", the nationally acclaimed musical by Joseph Stein, opens tonight at Helix High School under the direction of John Kay.

Curtain time for the production, in the school gymnasium, is 8 p.m. The musical will continue tomorrow and Saturday evenings and will also be staged next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Tickets, available at the door, are $1.50.

The production, a world-known classic, is the story of a small Russian Village in 1905.

The story's main character, Tevye, explains at the beginning of the play that everyone in his village is a fiddler on the roof, each trying to scratch out a simple, pleasant tune without breaking his neck.

Each villager perches on a steeply sloping roof, symbolic of the precarious position of the Russian Jew depicted in the play, able to keep balance by tradition.

Eventually, the villagers are brutally forced from the town,

State Parks Have Sites For Campers

There's good news for campers looking for a state park campsite this summer, according to William Penn Mott, Jr., Director of the California Department of Parks and Recreation.

"Recently I spoke to some people who told me they weren't going to try for a State Park campsite this summer because everything is full," Mott commented.

"I assured them, and I want to assure all Californians, that aside from the warm-water swimming beaches of southern California, which are booked a full 90 days in advance, there is room in all other state park units for most of the summer."

Mott did advise campers to make a reservation as soon as possible, because some campgrounds will fill up as the summer goes along. Reservations can be made at the 160 Ticketron offices located throughout California.

"Weekends, especially, are a busy time, but on most weekdays, you can get a campsite in most state parks, excepting the southern California beach parks."

In southern California, Mott said, not a single inland park is reserved full during the rest of July and August.

On the central California coast, Big Basin Redwoods, Henry Cowell Redwoods and Portola State Parks are filled July 14. Campsites are available for the rest of the summer in these areas and all other parks in the area.

All central valley parks have campsites available every day for the balance of the summer.

TO ATTEND SCHOOL—Benjamin Lizak, Jr., assistant vice president and manager of the loan accounting department, comptrollers division, for Home Federal Savings and Loan of San Diego, has been selected to attend the School for Executive Development for savings and loan personnel at the University of Connecticut. A Spring Valley resident, Lizak has been with Home Federal since 1959. He attended San Diego State University. The school, conducted by the American Savings and Loan Institute in cooperation with the University of Connecticut, is a two-week intensive education for persons in managerial and supervisory positions in savings and loan associations.

Governor, Legislature Commended by CTA

Gov. Reagan and the State Legislature were commended by the California Teachers Association last week "for living up to their commitments to quality education and local property tax relief."

Jack D. Rees, executive director of the 150,000-member MTA, made the statement in response to the signing by Gov. Reagan of two major school finance measures:

SB 6, which provides some $65 to $70 million in new state support for local community colleges, including property tax relief.

AB 1267, which adds $30 million for program to last year's historic SB 90 elementary and secondary school support measure, plus clearing up technical problems.

"Passage of these measures completes the commitment by the Legislature and Administration to provide critically needed increases in state support for local schools plus property tax relief," Rees said.

Radiator Cap Can Be Hazard

The simple act of removing the cap from an overheated car radiator can lead to painful, sometimes disfiguring, scalds and burns, said Don Costa, safety director of a national insurance company.

Cooling systems in modern autos are often under such tremendous pressure that the sudden depressurization which occurs when the safety radiator cap is removed can cause a cloud of scalding steam to erupt into the face of the person removing the cap.

"If your car's engine overheats, steam or smoke emerges from under the hood, or you detect a smell of burning rubber, stop driving as soon as safely possible," Costa advises.

"Then turn off the ignition. Don't release the radiator cap until all evidence of overheating subsides. You may have to wait several minutes for it to cool," he said.

If the cap has a pressure release device, such as a lever, a button or a turn knob, activate it to allow any excess steam to dissipate itself.

Turn the cap in a counter-clockwise direction until you feel the seal release. When the hissing sound subsides, the cap can be removed safely.

If it is necessary to add water to the radiator, do so with the engine running.

Add water very slowly so it can warm up in the radiator before passing into the engine block. If water is added too quickly, the abrupt change in temperature could crack the engine block.

Increase In Bighorn Sheep

Some 230 of California's rare Desert Bighorn Sheep were tallied in and around Anza-Borrego Desert State Park in the fourth annual Bighorn count July 1 through 3. This was an increase over the 192 counted last year, but this time more counters participated and the survey covered a wider area, according to Alec Spencer, president of the sponsoring Anza-Borrego Natural History Association.

A total of 34 counters, representing several state and federal agencies and volunteers from the Association's membership braved desert temperatures up to 117 degrees to make the three-day count.

Aim of the count is to get information on the condition and distribution of the sheep. It is not a complete census, Spencer emphasized, but it does give an idea of how the sheep are doing in the 500,000 acre State Park.

Quite a few lambs were recorded, indicating that the sheep are continuing to hold on despite ever increasing human encroachment on their once remote desert mountain domain, Spencer observed. Most animals were reported in good physical condition for the critical hot summer months that lie ahead.

Some 29 species of birds, from red-tailed hawks to tiny Costa's hummingbirds, were also noted by the sheep watchers.

Preservation of habitat for rare and endangered wildlife is one of the key responsibilities of the California Department of Parks and Recreation, and also a major concern of the Anza-Borrego Desert Natural History Association, Spencer stated.

RETIREMENT—Reon Rauscher, right, who served the Spring Valley Post Office for 15 years, punches out for the last time as Bill Fitzpatrick, Spring Valley Postmaster, wishes him good luck in his retirement. Rauscher joined the post office when there were only six carriers and handled the same route in central Spring Valley for 12 years. Prior to joining the Postal Service, he was a 25-year veteran of the U.S. Navy. During his retirement, he plans to "get my share of camping in now."

Victor Buono Benefit At Old Globe Monday

Character actor Victor Buono will perform a solo dramatic entertainment in San Diego July 23. The stage, film and television star will appear for a fund raising benefit at the Old Globe Theatre in Balboa Park.

A native San Diegan, Buono received his first recognition as an actor during the Old Globe Theatre's 1956 San Diego National Shakespeare Festival. As a scholarship recipient he played the title role in "Volpone" and a comedy role in "A Midsummer Night's Dream." Buono subsequently appeared in twelve Shakespearean productions at the Old Globe Theatre through 1962, his last local stage appearance.

Buono's non-Shakespearean leading roles at the Old Globe Theatre were in "Witness for the Prosecution," "Waltz of the Toreadors," "The Man Who Came to Dinner" and "The Gazebo."

At the Old Globe Theatre on July 23, Buono will perform dramatic and comedy writings from such authors as Max Beerbohm, Robert and Elizabeth Browning, Noel Coward, Emily Dickinson, James Weldon Johnson, Phyllis McGinley, Dorothy Parker, William Shakespeare, Dylan Thomas, Mark Twain, Tennessee Williams and others.

Last season Buono was selected by the Los Angeles Drama Critics as the Best Leading Actor for his performance as Sir John Falstaff in "Henry I, part 1" at the Mark Taper Forum. He had previously played the same role at the Old Globe Theatre.

He has acted starring guest role appearances on more than seventy major television dramatic programs and appeared on all of the major talk show programs. Buono was nominated to receive an Oscar for his supporting film role performance in "Whatever Happened to Baby Jane?" He has been featured in numerous other major films.

"It Could Be Verse," a book of poems by Buono has been published and a record album, "Heavy," was recently released.

He has appeared throughout the United States in numerous

Putting Contests To Aid Blind

A putting contest starts in San Diego Saturday according to Fred Eaton, founder and president of the National Putting Association.

Teams of two — mixed or matched sexes — will compete for a jackpot made up of entry fees $1-$3. 10% will be skimmed off for NPA expenses and prizes for the blind.

Mrs. Taylor Starts Alteration Service

Idella Taylor, of 2035 Imperial ave., Lemon Grove, is involved in the clothing industry with alterations, having set up a workshop at her home.

Mrs. Taylor, whose husband was formerly advertising manager with this newspaper, has been involved in the business for many years, but started her present operation about two weeks ago. Business phone is 469-0296.

Eaton said that putting classes for the blind are also sponsored by NPA.

The Saturday event will be at 3 p.m. Saturday at Balboa Park Golf Course practice putting greens.

The California Open Putting Championship will be played at Cottonwood Country club in El Cajon August 23-26. For added info, call NPA 462-8600.

Citizen's Advisory Committee To Host Engineer Spokesman

The Lemon Grove Citizen's Advisory Committee will meet tomorrow evening at 7:30 p.m. in the Lemon Grove Youth Center, on School lane.

Speaking at the meeting will be Howard Taylor, of the County Engineer Department, who will explain the operation of his department, which is in charge of maintaining roads, curbs and sidewalks.

The public is invited to the meeting of the committee, which last month hosted Supervisor Dick Brown, who explained procedures for incorporating the town.

The group is now working on a plan to raise money for a feasibility study of incorporation. No report is expected at this week's meeting.

Local Man Gets Doctor's Degree

James Ray Arsenault, a 1964 graduate of Mt. Miguel High School, received a Ph.D. in Computer Sciences from Purdue University. Dr. Arsenault received an M.S. from Purdue in 1970 and a B.S. from MIT in 1968.

Jim and his wife, Cherille, are moving to New Jersey where he has accepted a position with Bell Telephone Laboratories. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene J. Arsenault, formerly of Lemon Grove.

LG Library Plans Films For July 25

A free film program will be shown at the Lemon Grove Library July 25 at 2 p.m. The program, for all school-age children, will offer "Paddle to the Sea", the journey of a hand-carved toy canoe from the woods of northern Canada to the sea. Also, scheduled are "Foolish Frog", sung by Pete Seeger, "Ducks", and "Why the Sun and Moon Live in the Sky".

The Lemon Grove Library is located at 7735 Pacific ave.

Sky-Grove Pitching, Hitting Wins Area 3 Pony Tournament

It started out as though home runs would decide the winner of the Area 3 Pony League Tournament hosted by Sky-Grove Pony League at Knapp Field.

In the first game, the host team squared off against crosstown rival Spring Valley and collected a 3-0 victory. Mike Neagle, Bruce Frank and Chris Flores belted homers and Earl Ritchey twirled a no-hitter.

As it turned out later, pitching was what decided the tournament.

In the second game, homers played a major role as La Mesa upset Grossmont, 7-6. The winners belted six home runs, including two each by Paul Martin and Phil Nichol.

The losers of the first two games met in the third encounter, with Grossmont edging Spring Valley, 3-2, putting the Spring Valley team out of the double-elimination tournament.

Sky-Grove then took on La Mesa. John Young started the game for Sky-Grove and twirled a two-hit shutout to collect the victory, striking out 15 batters. Although Bruce Frank's solo homer would have been enough to win it, but Mike Neagle added another home run for insurance. With the game already all but won, Neagle blasted a grand slam homer to seal the 9-0 victory.

That left Sky-Grove the sole undefeated team in the tourney and left La Mesa and Grossmont to battle it out in the fifth game to see who would take on the host team for the tourney title.

In another close game, La Mesa turned the trick again. Down 1-0 in the fifth inning, La Mesa hustled up three quick runs as Paul Spring walked, Ron Kring singled and Pitcher Paul Martin belted a homer. Grossmont rallied in the sixth as Phil Wolfe singled and swiped second base then scored on Mark Whitehead's single. But Whitehead was stranded and Grossmont lost the game, 3-2.

That left La Mesa to face Sky-Grove in the sixth game Sunday. Under the double elimination rules, La Mesa would have to best Sky-Grove twice to win the tourney, while Sky-Grove merely needed one victory to wear the title. The

Bobby Frankel's Stable To Spice Del Mar Season

Bobby Frankel will bring his powerful and active stable to Del Mar for the first time this year, and the 32-year-old conditioner is already being tabbed a solid favorite to win the training crown during the 43-day season that opens Wednesday, July 25.

Defending champion Charlie Whittingham and Farrell W. Jones, leading trainer at Del Mar for 10 of the past 13 seasons, will also bring their thoroughbred forces to the seaside course which this year is offering the richest purse schedule in its history.

Frankel, who first made a name for himself in the New York training ranks, has moved his base of operations to California where his success with both claiming horses and stakes performers has made him the West's leading conditioner in 1973.

Whittingham edged Frankel by two victories, 33-31, at the Santa Anita meeting this year, but Frankel is running away with the Hollywood Park title where last year he sent out a record 60 winners.

Major owner in the Brooklyn-born trainer's stable is Mrs. Marion R. Frankel (no relation), but the star of the barn is Peter Blum's Florida-bred Life Cycle, a leading candidate for the $100,000 Del Mar Invitational Handicap September 9.

Frankel saddled Life Cycle for the first time May 27 and saw the four-year-old colt romp to a course-record equaling victory over Wing Out and Cougar 2nd in the $125,000 Hollywood Invitational Handicap. The final time of 2:25 3/5 matched the mile and one-half turf mark set by Fiddle Isle three years ago.

Expected to point for the Del Mar Derby is De Cap Stable's Expression, a speedy sophomore which captured three straight at Hollywood Park for Frankel before a disappointing effort in the Cinema Handicap.

Also among the classy performers coming to Del Mar with Frankel is five-year-old Fleet Grounded, a typical example of a claiming horse showing marked improvement after joining his stable. Bought from a claiming race for $16,000 last April, Fleet Grounded has subsequently won three races, finished second three times and earned more than $30,000.

During the recent national election, some Atlanta stores closed in the afternoon so that employees could vote.

Hitt McIntyre Denied Victory At Speedway

Despite four re-starts, no local driver could crack the winner's circle last week at Cajon Speedway, although the top two local drivers bolstered their positions in the point standings.

Pat McIntyre, who finished third in the super stock car main event Saturday, strengthened his hold on first place in the point standings and now leads second place John Dineen by 95 points. McIntyre, of Spring Valley, moved into first place two weeks ago with a main event victory and held a 15-point margin over Dineen.

Jim Hitt, of Lemon Grove, a perennially tough driver, finished fifth Saturday night but that was good enough to pick up more points on Dineen. Hitt is in third place but moved to within just 140 points of Dineen.

The race Saturday night was one of those oddities, as John Borneman, starting fourth, took over the lead from Tim Biggers after a yellow flag on the third lap.

Borneman's car was moving much better than Biggers', but three more flags in the course of the race put Biggers back in the race, although Borneman finally drew away to win by a quarter of a lap.

Although Biggers couldn't muster the speed to run a good race, top car handling kept him in second place, despite Pat McIntyre's vain efforts to pass. Had McIntyre been able to get around young Biggers, Borneman would have had a real battle on his hands for first place.

The win for Borneman was his second of the season. McIntyre has three wins to his credit, as does Jim Hitt. Both local drivers are expected back Saturday. Races start at 8 p.m., following 6:30 qualifying runs.

An added attraction this week will be a 25-car demolition derby.

MOST VALUABLE — Pretty Judy Misensol, 14, is presented with the Most Valuable Award for her performances in the girls hockey league. Making the presentation is Gulls general manager Max McNab. Judy, who lives nearby in Bonita, plays center and wing for the San Diego Dolphins at the House of Ice. The team had a 6-12 win-loss record in the season just ended. The Dolphins plan an exhibition game against the Costa Mesa Puckers July 28. To help defray expenses the team will hold a carwash Saturday at the service station at Lake Murray Blvd. and Interstate 8, opposite the House of Ice.

Meanwhile, McNab is getting his team ready for the season's opening game against Phoenix Oct. 5.

Del Mar Facts, Figures

Racing returns to Del Mar next week on Wednesday, and operators of the Del Mar Thoroughbred Club anticipate another record-breaking meeting as Sunday racing is added for the first time.

With Sunday racing to be presented each week during the 34th season that ends Wednesday, September 12, the "dark day" will be Tuesday. Post time is 2 p.m.

Since 1970, when the Del Mar Thoroughbred Club assumed control of the track, tremendously increased business — 37.2 percent in attendance and 43.4 percent in wagering.

Net purse distribution that averaged more than $64,000 daily in 1972 — ninth in the nation.

More than $3 million in purses will be offered during the 43-day 1973 meeting, with the richest stakes schedule in the track's history including seven added-money events on Sundays topped by the $100,000 Del Mar Invitational Handicap at a mile and three-eighths on the turf.

Del Mar Opening Day Facts & Figures

EVENTS — Del Mar's 34th Thoroughbred racing season.

Breitbard Foundation Names Month's Stars

For his achievement in capturing both the 100 and 220-yard dash titles in the National A.A.U. track and field championships, the San Diego Track Club's Steve Williams has been named a Star of the Month for June by the Breitbard Athletic Foundation.

By posting marks of 9.4 and 20.4 in the finals, Williams not only attained ranking among the great sprinters of all time but also became the first athlete to sweep the dashes since Ray Norton turned the trick in 1960.

Also accorded Star of the Month honors for June were Elijah Jefferson, Crawford High School sophomore sprinter; Ken Koske, pitcher for the U.S.L.U. baseball team, and Kerry Dineen, slugging star of the U.S.D. baseball club.

Jefferson topped off an unbeaten season by taking the 100-yard dash in the California prep championship meet with a 9.6 seconds effort. No county athlete had won the sprint crown since Jim Willson led his field back in 1929.

Koske not only pitched his team to the N.A.I.A. title but also was voted most valuable player in the tournament and named to the N.A.I.A. All-American lineup.

Sports Arena Names Promotion Department

The San Diego Sports Arena has announced the creation of a new publicity and promotion department at the Arena. Jerry Courneya has been appointed director and his assistant is Jack A. Marinello.

The new department is designed to work closely with show promoters, advertising agencies, newsmen and the broadcast media, in helping to coordinate promotion and publicity of events presented at the Sports Arena.

Dobransky On County Team

The San Diego Sports arena will be the site of the sixth annual City-County High School All-Star Basketball Game.

The event's executive director, George Ziegenfuss, made that announcement last week. Previous games have been played at Grossmont College and San Diego State. Due to record attendance last year and increasing interest throughout the area, the 1973 contest will be played in the arena.

The annual summer affair matches the top June graduates from the City of San Diego against the stars of suburbia.

This year's renewal will be played August 1, beginning at 8 p.m. The finals of the Pepsi Summer Basketball League playoffs will serve as the 6:30 preliminary.

Representing the local area will be Mark Dobransky, the sharp-shooting forward from Mt. Miguel High School, who will play on the county team.

The San Diego County Coaches' Association is the sponsor, with all net proceeds going to the San Diego County Association for the Retarded.

Join the Del Mar track team.

(Even on Sunday!)

Tracktators come in all shapes, sizes, ages and backgrounds. At Del Mar, you'll rub shoulders with everybody from Jimmy Durante and Burt Bacharach to your boss or your mother-in-law. That's because being a tracktator is fun, friendly and really easy, once you get the hang of it.

Trackmosphere

We've coined another word. Because there wasn't one to describe the atmosphere of Del Mar. There's no place quite like it in the world. From its plush Turf Club to the comfortable theatre-style seats in general admission. From the colorful saddling paddock to the new infield lakes and fountains. From the surf where the Thoroughbreds exercise to the lush grass course. From the sunshine-and-ocean-breeze climate to the contagious spirit of people having fun. Put it all together and it spells Del Mar...where every day is lucky.

Track Stars

Del Mar's track hero is the Thoroughbred... a masterpiece of careful breeding, grace and spirit. The Thoroughbred is the noblest aristocrat of horse-dom... with a pedigree that must be traceable to one of the three grand sires who started the whole thing in the 1700's.

Thoroughbreds are the finest "athletes" of their sport... and at Del Mar you see nothing but the finest Thoroughbreds. That's about 10 top stars appearing nine times daily, six days a week... including Sundays! It's like seeing Tom Seaver, John Unites, Jack Nicklaus, Billie Jean King and Ken Norton all on the same team. (For only $1.75!)

Track Shorts

Del Mar's track shorts are the jockeys... the biggest little men in the sports world. Wearing the colorful silks that add so much to track pageantry and perched precariously on a 24 oz. saddle, they control about 1,000 lbs. of speeding horsepower with the touch of a knee or the tug of a rein. Del Mar's track team includes all the greats, from Willie Shoemaker, who broke all win records at Del Mar in 1970, to popular winners like Don Pierce and Jerry Lambert.

Tracktators

Track fans are a lot more than spectators. They participate. Wildly. Because during the breathless moments of a race, the tracktator "owns" the horse he's chosen. And, win or lose, the excitement of total involvement is greater than in any other sport.

Track Record

Here's your own personal record of details to remember: 1973 Season: July 25 'til Sept. 12. Post Time: 2 p.m., daily except Tues. Daily Double: 1st and 2nd races. Exacta: 5th and 8th races. Gen'l. Adm.: $1.75. Special Senior Citizens (65) Adm.: $1, weekdays only. Reserved seats: $1.25 ($1.50, Sat., Sun., holidays). Parking: 50¢. Information or reservations: (714) 299-1340 or (714) 755-1141. Go out for the King of Sports this year... join the Del Mar Track Team!

Now, Sundays, too! Del Mar.

History Museum Plans Films, Camp, Walks

August will be a busy week for the San Diego Natural History Museum. In addition to nature films on the week-ends, the museum plans a nature study camp and a tree and bird walk.

Films begin August 4 and 5, with "Secrets of Life" a true-life adventure series on small plants and creatures of land and sea.

Scheduled August 11 and 12 is "Seven Cities of Antarctica" from the Walt Disney "People and Places" series.

The following weekend will be "Switzerland", a film describing customs, traditions and family life of the Swiss.

Not Too Late For Library Youth Program

It's not too late for children to join summer fun at the La Mesa Library, 8055 University ave. Registrations are still being taken for the summer activities including programs, crafts, reading, puzzles, and displays.

Dr. Robert Burns, a Lemon Grove veterinarian, will speak to the children on pet care Tuesday at 10 a.m. July 31 at 10 a.m., a party with a live band, refreshments, and free drawing will end the summer activities at the library.

Adults should plan to attend the Tuesday evening summer fun of antiques, superstar films, and doll collecting each week at 7 p.m. at the library.

Open hours are 10 a.m. to 8:30 p.m., Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. Saturdays.

The last weekend in August will feature "Track of the Giant Snow Bear", the story of an Eskimo boy and a polar bear cub, filmed in the Arctic. The film includes spectacular footage of the Arctic area.

A special film will be shown the first weekend in September, "Call of the Canyons". Included are shots of Cedar Breaks Canyon in Utah, Sion National Park, Bryce National Park, and the Grand Canyon.

Films are screened at 3 p.m. Saturday and at 1:30 and 3 p.m. Sunday.

The nature study camp will be a three-day affair August 25-27. Campers, who provide their own transportation and equipment, will visit the Sierra San Pedro Martir in Baja California, a new astronomical observatory. The study will also include geology, plants and animals.

The tree and bird walk will be held four times, at 8:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. August 25 and 26. The mile-long tours will be in Balboa Park's El Prado area.

For details, contact the museum's educational activities office at 232-9146.

'Bill of Rights' For Policemen Considered

Congressman Clair W. Burgener (R-Rancho Santa Fe) has co-authored legislation to establish a "Law Enforcement Officers Bill of Rights" designed to assure "that the rights of police officers are given at least as effective protection as are the rights of suspects."

Burgener said he supported the measure because "the brave men and women who undertake a career in law enforcement should be assured that such a career will not endanger their personal civil rights. These fine people deserve the support of the society they protect."

Among the rights that would be guaranteed by Burgener's bill would be the right to bring civil suits against others for damages, the right to full disclosure of personnel actions taken in cases of complaints or charges, the right to off-duty political participation and the right to full due process in any complaint review procedures.

Best Burger To Open; Buys Oscar's Location

The drive in restaurant formerly known as Oscar's, at 7441 Broadway in Lemon Grove, has been purchased by the Best Burger Corp., it was announced this week by George L. Ackors, president of the firm.

Ackors, formerly an executive and franchise owner of Big Boys Restaurants, said the Lemon Grove unit is to be the first of several to be established throughout the county.

The Broadway Best Burger is undergoing a face-lifting which includes decorating the interior and a drive through section is being added. Seating capacity for 60 persons is provided inside.

Ackors said the quality and quantity would be "a cut above" hamburger places which now dot the county. Employees will also be chosen with "cut above" in mind. "They'll be brighter, more courteous and more friendly,"

'Mame' To Be Staged At College

The Grossmont College Music Department will join forces with the Drama Department to present the long-running Broadway musical, "Mame."

James W. Baker, designer and director of the Griffin Players' production, will be assisted by Charles W. MacLeod, musical director, David L. Glismann, chore director and Clark G. Mires who will design and produce the costumes for the summer musical.

The musical comedy will open at 8 p.m., August 1 in the Stagehouse Theatre. Additional performances will be presented on August 2, 3, 4, 8, 9, 10 and 11 with an 8 p.m. curtain time for all performances.

The cast list for "Mame" includes Sandi Fleck, of Spring Valley, as Norah Moldoon; William Barton, of Lemon Grove, as Bearegard Jackson Pickett Burnside; and Diane Kucala, Spring Valley as Pegeen Ryan.

The public is invited to the summer musical presented by Grossmont College's Griffin Players. General admission is $2 for adults and $1 for children. Reservations are required and may be obtained by calling 465-1700, Ext. 327.

FINISHED PRODUCT—The last pieces of ice were chipped away, and to the enjoyment of the children, a nice replica of a cougar blossomed. The cougar was so "shy" that it melted shortly after the demonstration.

Ice Carver Receives 'Warm' Reception at Lemon Grove Library

What do you think of when you see a 300 lb. block of ice? Frozen water, a large ice cube? Well, Robert Brosch of National City thinks of Cougars, and buildings like the Eiffel Tower. Brosch has the unusual hobby of ice carving, and those are just a few of the many carvings he has made.

The Eiffel Tower was made for a high school prom from four-300 lb. blocks of ice, and the cougar was carved by Brosch last Saturday as part of the Lemon Grove Library's summer activity program.

Brosch started his ice carving in 1956, five years after coming to the United States from Germany. Brosch at the time was a wood carver, but turned his talents to ice and has been doing it ever since.

Although he works full time as a Navy architect at Rose Cayon, Brosch still finds time to do both ice and wood carvings. His ice carvings have been shown at the Del Mar Fair and have been used by the Old Globe Theatre in San Diego. A solid oak pulpit and mahogany madonna are displayed in the All Halo Catholic Church above Mt. Soledad.

Born in 1903, Brosch later attended the Academy of Art in Munich, Bavaria. Although not young in years, Brosch makes up for it in other ways, "never give up. Here I am 70 years old this year and I am working right and left."

Brosch is available for private functions, and can be contacted through Mr. Wixon at Studio 5, Spanish Village Art Center.

When Jimmie Walker was mayor of New York he frequently appeared briefly in some Broadway plays.

COOL FUN—Youngsters enjoying the ice carving program weren't exactly sure what the end result would look like, but they had a good time catching ice chips, keeping themselves cool during the warmth of the noon sun.

John M. Olsen, a long-time La Mesa resident, has joined NVR Securities Corp after more than 17 years with another firm.

Olsen, who becomes a vice president of NVR became a stock broker with First California Co. in 1956. He is past president of the SD Stock and Bond club and a member of the La Mesa Lion club. NVR is located in the Security Pacific Plaza and is a member of the Pacific Stock Exchange.

VW GRADUATE — Prayther Bell of John Factor Volkswagen, Lemon Grove, received his certificate of graduation as a parts technician at recent apprenticeship graduation ceremonies in Los Angeles. VWoA's three-year apprentice course, now in its fifth year, is a joint venture with California's Dept. of Industrial Relations. Graduates included 42 former apprentices — all full-time employees of sponsoring dealerships.

TAPE MEASURE—Using a light beam to measure distances of up to two kilometers within an accuracy of one millimeter is Assistant Civil Engineer Anton Fitzgerald. The instrument, called a Cubitape, is manufactured in San Diego.

It and other advances in the profession have cut the size of County of San Diego survey and mapping crews in half with a resultant saving to the taxpayer.

$4,000 'Tape Measure' Makes Quick Work Of Mapping Jobs

A major tool in mapping the vast area of San Diego County is a $4,000 "tape measure," according to Phil Barker.

The chief of the County Engineer's Surveying and Mapping Group was describing the Cubitape, an electronic measuring device. One of many advances in technology in the field of mapping, the apparatus uses an infrared beam of light which is reflected from a prism up to two kilometers away. The reflection is read by the machine and a printed answer is given with an accuracy of one millimeter.

The County Engineer Department is a unit of the Public Works Agency. The surveyors and engineers who make up the Surveying and Mapping Group are charged with trying to keep up with the tremendous growth in the unincorporated areas of the County. They are also charged with the preparation of maps and surveys on a regional basis, including cooperative topographic mapping projects with cities.

Barker said that new machines and techniques like the Cubitape, aerial photo mapping called photogrammetry, and the electronic data processing of field work have cut significantly the time factor of maps.

"The Cubitape, for instance, means that we can now send out a survey crew of two men—or three in rugged terrain—and accomplish the same work in the same time that a four-man crew used to do," continued Barker.

The locally manufactured Cubitape replaces two men with a steel measuring tape and is usually much more accurate.

Barker also said aerial photography has corrected many map errors.

The San Diego County Engineer's Surveying and Mapping Group, in fact, is looked upon by others in the profession as being very progressive, according to Barker.

Ramos, Hafey Highlight Card

by Max Goodwin

Friday night fights at the new Coliseum ought to be interesting to record keepers. First, there will be nearly as many fighters named Rodriguez on the card as there were fans under a previous operation.

To be more precise, there will be three by that name—and none are related.

Then there is a fighter named Mando Ramos who has twice held the lightweight championship of the world.

What's he up to? He's on his way to make it the third time!

But there always has been a uniqueness about Promoter Mickey Davies. He attracts unusual circumstance. He also attracts spiffy fighters. And they, in turn, attract fans.

Look at the Friday card which will be dealt starting at 8 p.m. All of them are 10-rounders:

First main: Lightweights Cowboy Jimmy Hear of Los Angeles (27-0) versus Miguel "Mike" Mayon of San Diego (22-8-2)

Second main: Featherweights Irish Art Hafey of San Diego (27-1-1) versus Jose Luis Rodriguez of Tijuana (26-6-2)

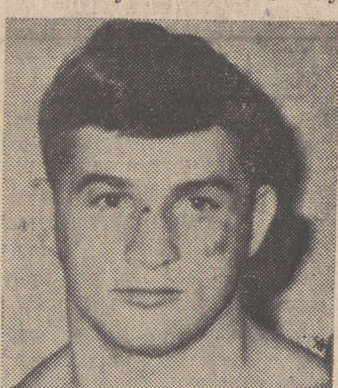

Rodriguez Special: Welterweights Gonzalo Rodriguez of Imperial Beach (13-3-1) versus Jorge Rodriguez of San Ysidro (22-6-1)

Tickets are $3; $6 reserved and $7.50 ringside.

Now for some bio material: Hear—Rated no. 4 in the lightweight world. He won 13 of his last 17 fights by KOs. He beat former world champ Chango Carmona. KO'd Cesar Sinda and Juan Collado.

Mayon—Tabbed the "Mexican Spoiler". Ended undefeated streaks of Waymon Young, Kenny Brooks and Renaldo Victoria. Has never been KO'd but lost a close decision to Hear in Bakersfield in October.

Hafey—Stratlingly good. Is after his 16th straight victory and eighth straight KO. He is only 5-2 but has the arm action of a heavyweight. Observers say he's on his way to the crown. Sports wagers claim he could beat former State Heavyweight Champ Jack O'Halloran — by hitting him on the kneecaps. He stopped Famosa Gomez, Mexico's bantamweight champion earlier this year and stopped Valente Vera at the Sports Arena on the Ali-Norton card.

"Irish" Art Hafey

Gonzales uno—Jose lost a San Francisco split decision to the then California featherweight champ Alberto Reyes. This will be his second fight outside Mexico. Tijuana sports writers say he is a tough, bang-bang type of fighter who excites the fans.

Rodriguez dos — Welterweight Gonzalo Rodriguez is 20, single and handsome. His trainer says he is so fast that he has to slow him down in training. In a July 6 fight at the Coliseum, he knocked Rosario Zavala down four times and stopped him in the fifth.

Rodriguez tres — Welterweight Jorge Rodriguez was national amateur welterweight champion of Mexico and as a pro KO'd previously unbeaten Ramiro Rubalcava. In October he lost a disputed decision to well-regarded Quincy Adams. His trainer says tres has trouble finding fighters to work out with due to his speed and punching power.

In all, it looks like a pretty good card. Reservations for Friday fights or Tuesday wrestling can be made at 232-8362.

HANDS FULL—San Diego County Sheriff's Sergeant Elden Carl, of the Lemon Grove Station, illustrates his method of two-handed pistol shooting he innovated for the department. His muscular forearms reflect the adroitness which won him a national championship in quick draw shooting competition. Sgt. Carl's style allows much more accurate aiming and faster firing of the hand gun when officers must defend lives. A principal advantage is that the possibility of stray shots injuring a bystander is virtually eliminated. The Sheriff's Academy at Miramar College teaches this type of shooting during the 81 hours of weapons training given to new law enforcement officers from throughout the region.

Lemon Grove Sheriff's Sergeant Develops Two-Hand Pistol Style

Gone are the days when a western sheriff would face the bad guy in a gun duel to determine the outcome of a criminal case.

"We teach a deputy to shoot only if he must to defend life, otherwise to take cover and radio for help," said Ralph Landmesser. He serves as a firearms instructor and range master at the Sheriff's Academy for San Diego County at Miramar College on Highway 395.

Standardized pistol shooting for competition has always had the shooter standing at more or less right angles to the target, holding the gun in one hand, and trying to keep the muzzle from wandering too far from the bull's eye. San Diego County Sheriff's instructors, however, decided to take a closer look at traditional pistolry and concentrate on actual shooting incidents.

Statistics gathered showed that 87 percent of police officers who have been shot were fired at during hours of darkness and at a distance of less than 25 feet. Accordingly, the Sheriff's Academy instructors adopted a pragmatic course using a two-hand hold for the pistol, short range, a great volume of fire from their revolvers—as many shots as possible in the shortest time—and targets in dim lighting, Landmesser said.

He gave credit to Sergeant Elden Carl for originating this style of shooting in the San Diego County Sheriff's Department.

"The famous firearms author and retired Marine, Jeff Cooper, outlined the problem in 1957," said Carl. "He found that combat pistol shooting was still being taught using a one-hand hold because the other hand was supposedly used to hold the reins of a horse. Of course, the horse had long since disappeared, but tradition dies hard."

He continued that L.A. County Sheriff's Deputy Jack Weaver started winning matches in the South West Pistol League, a fast draw competition, by using a two-hand pistol hold. In 1964, Carl convinced his department's training officer to adopt the new type of "combat" shooting, after mastering Weaver's style.

Students at the Academy, including policemen of very city in the County except San Diego, now learn to use the fast draw, two-handed grip, shooting rapidly at close ranges. Other law enforcement agencies in the nation have been slowly switching to this type of instruction as they have learned about it, Landmesser said, although many departments are still using the old bull's eye, one-handed method.

The targets used by the Sheriff's Academy were designed by Sergeant Carl, too, containing no scoring rings, and only a body silhouette. Hits anywhere except in the head, neck, or torso do not count because in an actual situation it would be the weapon in the performance same, Landmesser continued.

He explained that the officers are under orders to not shoot unless in a life and death situation, therefore any of their shots are designed to "completely put an assailant out of action," not superficially wound him.

Landmesser, a 13 year veteran of the Sheriff's Office, said that firearms training averages 81 hours per class. An additional 12 hours are spent on the legal and moral issues involved in using a situation it would be the weapon in the performance of a policeman's duty.

One More Hurrah

Buzzie Bavasi has not been able to provide San Diego with a championship team, but his annual Old Timers game is always a winner.

It brings to fans baseball greats whose names will be forever listed in the archives of the nation's sport. Friday's game was the best ever fielded by Bavasi.

Alright. So a couple of batters got four strikes and a few errors were chalked up as hits. But there were some circus catches that put the current Padres outfield to shame. And there were some mighty clouts, too. The Old Timers still had that touch of greatness.

All the fun wasn't on the diamond. Reporters visited with the old gents before the game. There was an after-game cocktail party and dinner given by Bavasi and the Padres. It was a warm, friendly affair replete with all the reminiscing a sport fan requires. And the reporters. They added to their store of stories regarding baseball greats.

There was Satchel Paige. He, of the immeasurable years, is somewhere between 60 and 80. He'll attest to 60 but records put it more accurately near 80. Satchel works now for the St. Louis Cards organization pitching batting practice. A reporter wondered whether Satchel's elderly arm had enough stuff left to make his batting practice pitching effective. "They hit your pitches pretty good, don't they," asked a reporter. "Only when I let them," replied the indomitable one.

Another reporter asked Stan Musial and said "I've got a good Polish story for you, Stan."

"I'm Polish, you know," said Stan.

"That's all right," said the reporter, "I'll tell it slow."

At the after-game dinner in the Stadium Club, a middle-aged waitress who probably had been tasting too much of the cooking sherry rushed over and clapped her hand atop my lapel nameplate and said, "I've always wanted to meet you in person. I used to go to the ball park in St. Louis just to see you play. I am covering your nameplate to prove that I remember you by sight, Mr. Slaughter." The only trouble is that she had mistaken me for plump, bald Enos Slaughter, the famed ballplayer who had garnered more than 2,300 hits during his distinguished career.

Later, I was able to tell Slaughter, who was in the company of Lefty Grove, that he had just gotten the finest compliment of his San Diego visit by being mistaken for a handsome dude like me. The same waitress swished by with a trayful of cocktails. I asked her to repeat her compliment and she did but she still insisted I was Enos. Grove, who is known to go days without uttering a word, blinked and said to the waitress, "Now, how did you ever make a mistake like that?"

"They changed name tags," she answered and flitted off to distribute her drinks.

After dinner the speechmaking started and who do you think they called on for the "keynote" speech? Right. Casey Stengel, the ol' perferess. But the table next to mine was noisy. So was my table which was occupied by John Wirges, Sentinel sports editor; Al Couppee, THE sportscaster; Ray Means, UPI bureau chief; Don Freeman, the brilliant television editor for the San Diego Union, and others. I couldn't hear enough of the ol' perferess's talk to understand what he was talking about. I slipped to the table directly in front of the podium. I could hear fine but I still couldn't understand. Casey was doing what he does best at age 83. He was tripe-talking. He was discussing at least three different subjects at the same time, sliding easily from one to the other without identifying the change.

Bob Feller, the great Cleveland pitcher was there with his 22-year old son Bruce. Bruce had just graduated from MIT with a degree in physics. He was headed for a government space program job. The pair loaned class to the party. There were others and they contributed, too.

Some of the reporters—those in their early 20s—must have wondered about the adulation heaped on over-age baseball types. But the day will come thirty years or so from now when they will know.
